QUALITY BLACKLINE MASTERS

Can you find the ten hidden words below? Trace over them.

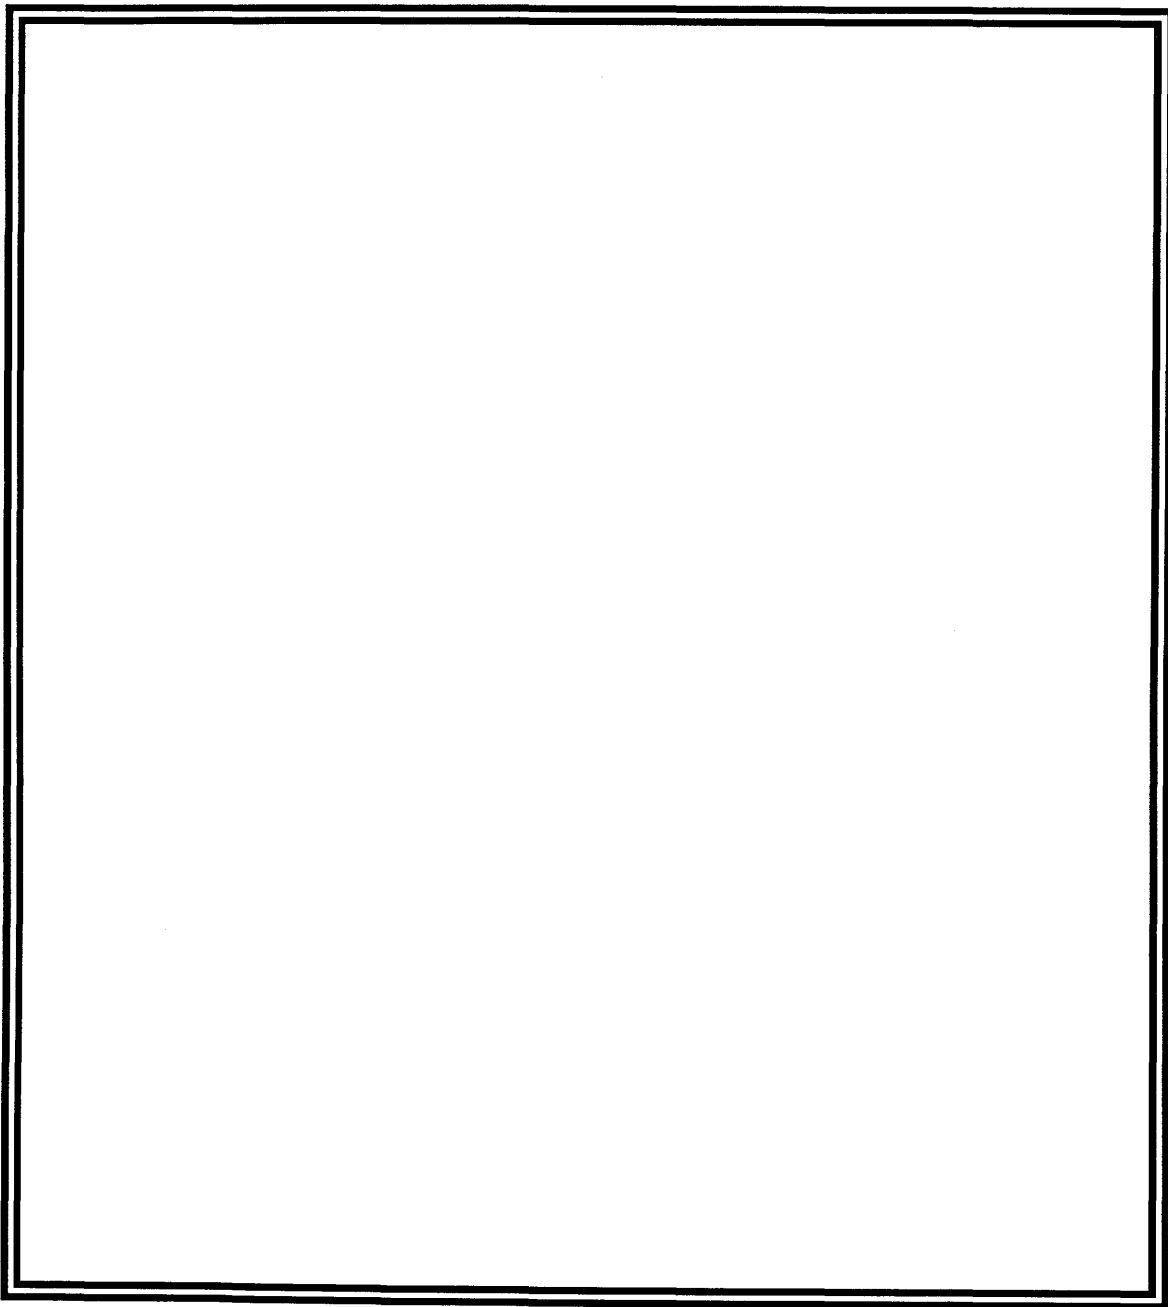

Write a story about Rudolph and Christmas time. Tell about an adventure he had with Santa Claus, or tell your own version of how he got a red nose.

Poor old Santa is finding it tough these days to keep up.
The world moves a lot faster every year.
What he needs is a new sleigh.
One designed with the future in mind.
With millions of people to visit in one night,
the old sleigh is just not up to it.

Santa is really in a hurry for this design.
Use lots of arrows and labels.

P.S. Don't forget the power!

What did Santa say to his reindeer on Christmas Eve?

Use these pictures and the ones on the following page (5)
to create a Christmas Nativity Scene.
Colour them in. Then cut them out and paste them onto a big piece of paper to tell the story of Christmas.

Use these pictures with those on the previous page (4) to create your Christmas scene.

SAINT NICHOLAS

Who was "Saint Nicholas?"

Where did "Father Christmas" come from?

How did he become "Santa Claus"?

Draw a picture of Santa.

Just like Charlie in "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" you have won a ticket to visit Santa's Workshop. Can you describe your trip through the North Pole complex? Make it like the Chocolate Factory book and write about the elves, manufacturing systems, storage rooms and Santa's private quarters etc.

NEWSFLASH

It's Christmas Eve and there have been reported sightings of a possible crash-landing of Santa's sleigh. Complete the front page of this newspaper with headlines and an article stating exactly what has happened. Also explain what some of the implications may be for all of the children at Christmas time. Include a picture.

Can you think of some really weird Christmas gifts? Every word in each gift has to start with the letter given. Remember they can be really zany!!!

When you have finished, share one of the books with your friend.

CHRISTMAS IN OTHER LANDS

GERMANY

The Kristkind. (The Christ-Child)

The German people do not have Santa but a Kristkind. The Kristkind is a child dressed in white robes, wearing a golden crown and having golden wings. Children put a candle in their windows to help show the Kristkind the way, for she brings them their gifts.

Germany is the originator of the Christmas tree.

HOLLAND

In Holland the children leave their wooden shoes on the window sill for Saint Nicholas. He has a special helper called Black Peter. Saint Nicholas rides through the streets on a white horse.

MEXICO

In Mexico children take turns to break the earthenware "Pinato" so they can catch all of the goodies that are inside it.

SWEDEN

Saint Lucia Day, December 13th, opens the Christmas season in Sweden. Saint Lucia wears a crown of pine boughs with seven candles.

NORWAY

Bundles of grain are put out for the bird's Christmas dinner in Norway. People in Norway prepare for Christmas by baking seven different kinds of biscuits.

FRANCE

"Melchoir", a giant figure is strapped to a donkey and taken from door to door gathering gifts of food for the poor people in France. The children leave their shoes out for Pere Noel to fill. Children get their gifts on Christmas Day, while the adults have to wait until New Year's Day for their gifts.

CHINA

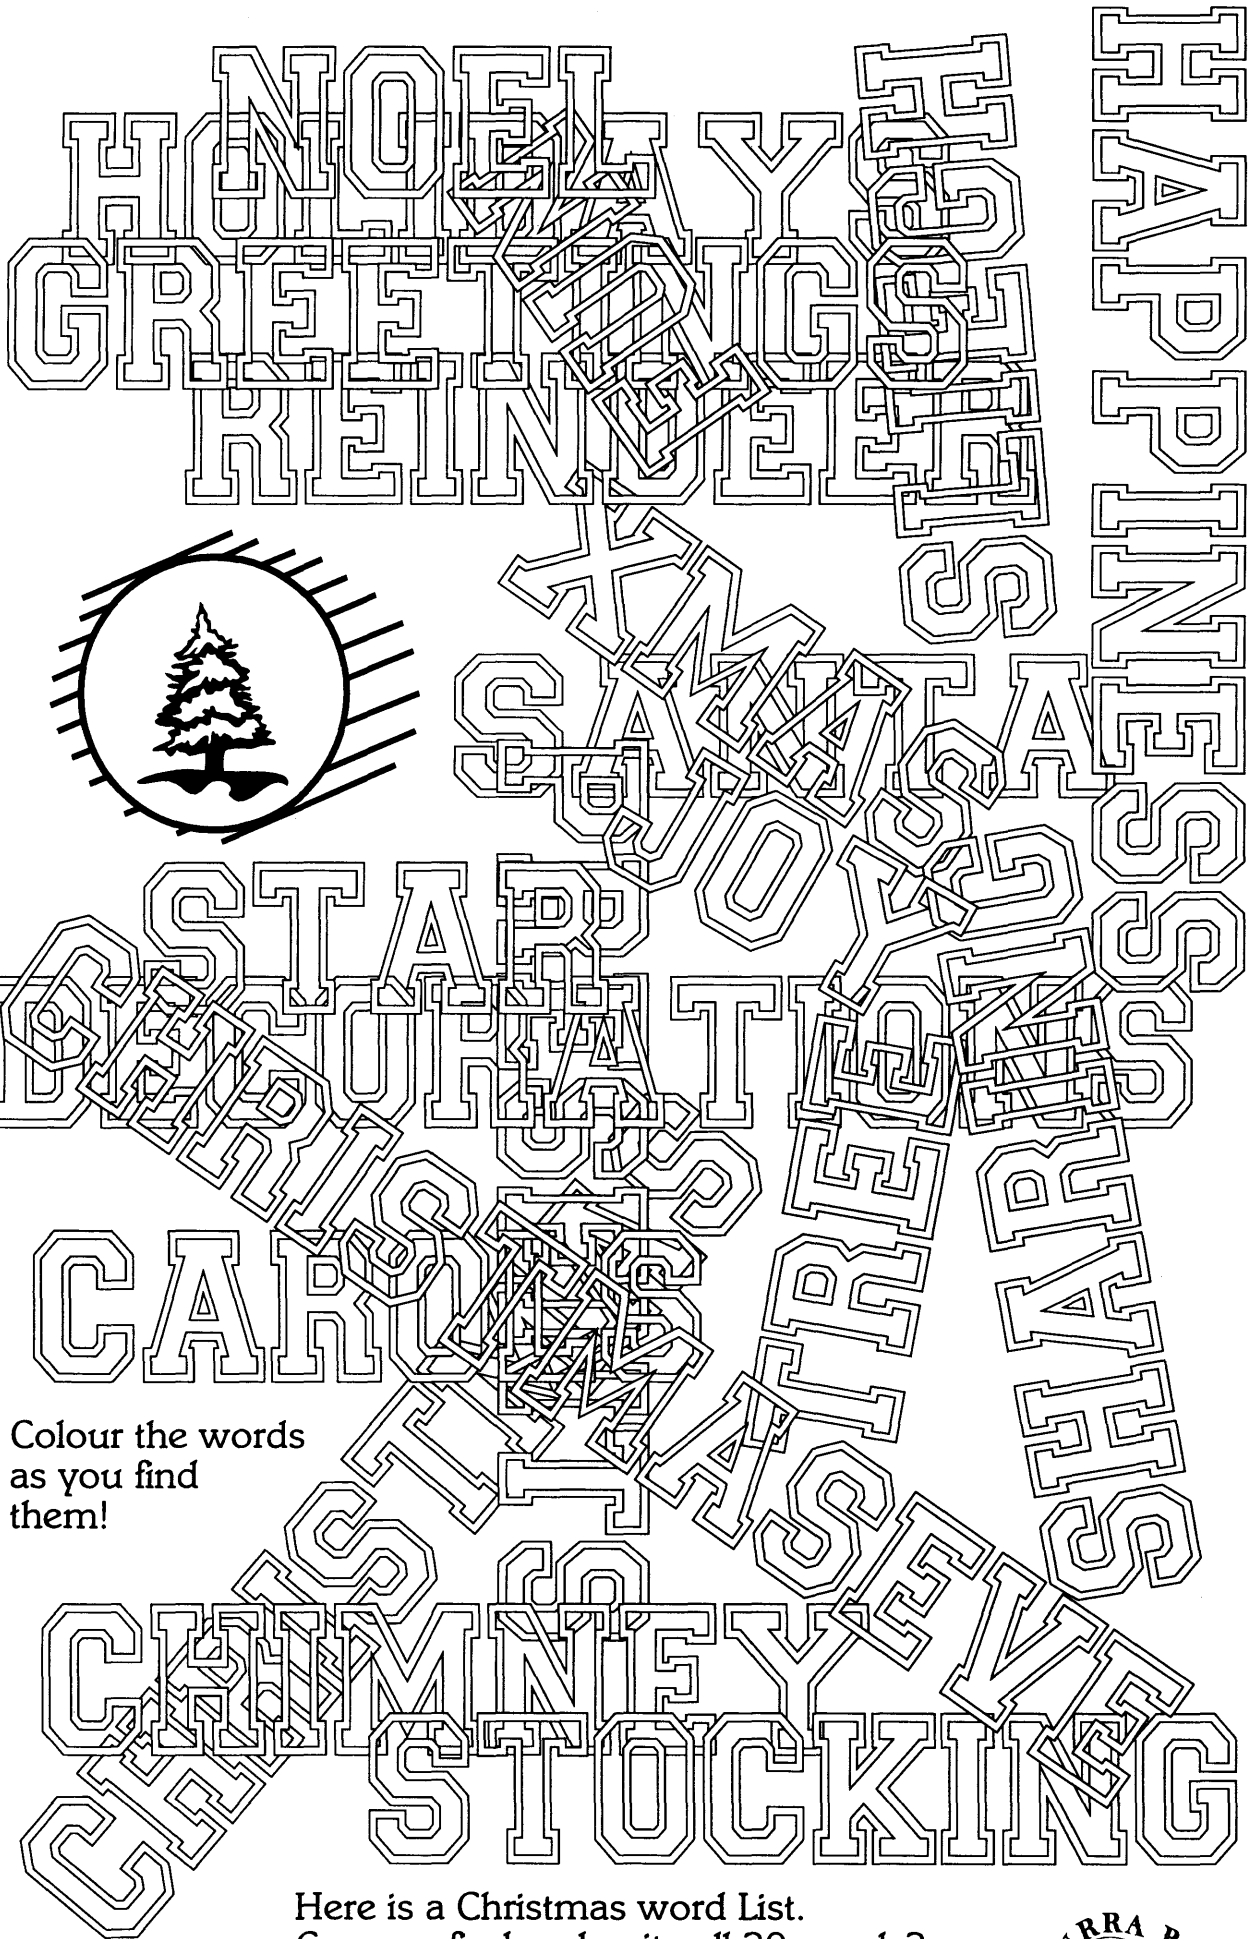

In China, New Year is the main celebration. People walk along the streets with lanterns. There is also a lot of singing and dancing.

SWITZERLAND

Edelweis is the little snow flower of the Alps. It is the Christmas flower of Switzerland. In some parts of Switzerland Father Christmas travels with his wife Lucy. They give out gifts together.

ENGLAND

The English bring in the Yule log on Christmas Eve. Christmas in England is in winter and sometimes the ground is white with snow. We get many of our Christmas customs from England.
